

Sympatex introduces spun-dyed functional textiles

Written by Kieran Mitchell
Published: 04 December 2018

MUNICH - Sympatex Technologies presented a new line of spun-dyed laminates at last week's Performance Days trade fair in Munich, which are said to reduce water consumption by an average of 75 per cent and decrease the use of chemicals by 90 per cent, through the use of its 100 per cent polyether and polyester-based membranes.